DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-14, drawn to a method of cleaning, classified in class 134, subclass 21.
  - II. Claims 15-18, drawn to an apparatus for removing contaminants, classified in class 15, subclass 1.51.
  - III. Claims 19-20, drawn to a lithographic projection apparatus, classified in class 430, subclass various.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions of Group I and Group II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus as claimed can be used for etching or surface modification of the object.
3. Inventions of Group I and Group III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus as claimed can be used for etching or surface modification of the object.

4. Inventions of Group II and Group III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because it does not require an apparatus comprising a chamber having a door in combination with at least one of the structural elements, provided by claims 15 or 17. The subcombination has separate utility such as etching device.

5. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. If the invention of Group I is elected, this invention contains claims directed to the patentably distinct species, provided by claims 3, 5, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 13. The species are independent or distinct because they introduce variety of distinct and independent processing steps to claim 1.

8. If the invention of Group II is elected, claims 15 and 17 of this invention contain claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: the specie of voltage source; the specie for vibrating the object; the specie for bombarding the surface of the object; the specie for applying a layer of liquid to the surface of the object. The species are independent or distinct because they introduce variety of distinct and independent structural elements to the apparatus of claims 15 or 17.

9. If the invention of Group III is elected, claim 20 of this invention contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: the specie of voltage source; the specie for vibrating the object; the specie for bombarding the surface of the object; the specie for applying a layer of liquid to the surface of the object. The species are independent or distinct because they introduce variety of distinct and independent structural elements to the apparatus of claim 19.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed specie for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1, 15, 17, 19 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

10. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Michael Kornakov whose telephone number is (571) 272-1303. The examiner can normally be reached on 9:00am - 5:30pm.
